SEND AFFILIATION FEES TO THE ABOVE POSTAL ADDRESS. SUGGESTED AFFILIATION FEES ARE AS FOLLOWS:

(These are suggested guidelines, not hard and fast requirements. If your organization can't contribute as suggested, let us know and we'll work out a mutually acceptable amount.)

- * National unions and other labor organizations are expected to contribute $100 or more annually for every 10,000 members.
- * Intermediate labor bodies such as central labor councils, district councils and statewide or regional organizations are requested to contribute $250 or more annually if they represent fewer than 100,000 members, and $500 or more if they represent more than 100,000 members.
- * Local Unions having fewer than 100 members - from $50 to $250 or more annually;
- * Local Unions having from 100 to 500 members - from $250 to $500 or more annually;
- * Local Unions having from 501 to 2500 members - from $500 to $2,500 or more annually;
- * Local Unions having from 2,501 to 10,000 members - from $1,500 to $5,000 or more annually;
- * Local Unions having more than 10,000 members - from $5,000 to $10,000 or more annually;
- * Workers centers, ad hoc labor antiwar committees, union antiwar caucus formations, local units of allied organizations affiliated with the AFL-CIO or its affiliated constituency groups (such as CLUW, PAW, APALA, LCLAA, CBTU, A. Philip Randolph, Jobs with Justice), and other forms of labor organizations are requested to contribute $100 or more annually. National levels of these allied organizations are requested to contribute $250 or more annually.

Organizations which do not fit into the above definitions, or those which face special conditions requiring that an exception be made should consult with the new organization's leadership and submit a proposal for consideration by the Steering Committee, or a sub-committee thereof assigned to address such situations.
